Sandra is committed to the not for profit sector and has over 10 year experience, dealing with a wide range of clients including governmental bodies, hospices, citizen's advice bureaux and grant making trusts.

She prides herself on being able to give a personal service that helps her clients meet their current needs and plan for the future. Her areas of specialism include risk, governance, and SORP accounting.

Sandra is a member of our technical committee, speaks at seminars, writes articles for the charity press and has been a trustee of a number of local charities.

Outside work her interests include music, theatre and family.
