Julie Walsh joined Kingston Smith in 1981 and became a Partner in 1987.

She currently acts for a mixed portfolio of clients including owner managed businesses with turnovers of up to £140 million. She has considerable experience in advising professional firms and is head of our professional firms sector. Julie has a particular interest in Surveyors and Architects practices. As well as her client responsibilities, Julie is also involved in firm-wide recruitment and our comprehensive training programmes. She is a director of our HR Consultancy business and her experience in this area ensures we provide commercial advice on this complex area. She also assists Michael Snyder, the senior partner, with the day-to-day management of Kingston Smith LLP.
