David Benton is a general practice partner providing value added services to a wide range of clients by size and industry.

David specialises in professional partnerships (particularly the legal profession), charities, property investment, property development and owner managed businesses. He particularly enjoys building close relationships with the principals of businesses as they expand and develop. He also provides forensic accounting support in business valuations and disputes to solicitors and barristers and has been an expert witness on a number of occasions. Years spent working in Australia and Papua New Guinea mean he is able to call on international experience when required.
