Nigel joined Kingston Smith in 1996 as a partner as a result of a merger and is based in St Albans.

He provides advisory and assurance services to entrepreneurial businesses, professional firms and property-related clients both in the local region and the Home Counties.

Nigel has broad financial experience from working as managing partner of his own accountancy business, a Financial Controller with East African Breweries, a quoted company in Nairobi, and as a Non-Executive Director of a group of architects and designers quoted on The Stock Exchange.

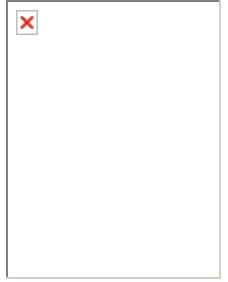

Outside of work, Nigel has a keen interest in military history and fine wines.
