Gordon joined Kingston Smith's city office, as a graduate trainee, in 1996. After qualifying in 2000 he spent 7 months working for a KSi member firm in Melbourne.

He moved to our St Albans office in 2009 when he became a partner.

Gordon's client base ranges from personal tax clients, including a number of sports personalities; through various entrepreneurial businesses to charities, trade organisations and PLCs.

As well as his client commitments, Gordon is dedicated to the development of junior staff through the firm and sits on the Practice Development Committee. Gordon has obtained the joint ICAEW and Cass Business School Diploma in Charity Accounting and is a technical screener of accounts entered for the annual Charity Accounts Awards.
