

Association Management

Kingston Smith Association Management (KSAM) was established exclusively to manage not for profit organisations. Since its establishment, we have become one of the most experienced and successful management companies in the UK. Our fundamental purpose is, and always has been, to give associations and their members exactly what they want - the best possible service and value for their money.

Many trade and professional associations and other not for profit organisations find that maintaining office space and support services can result in a substantial drain on vital resources. In addition, busy senior staff may find it hard to make time to attract, train and motivate suitable support staff.

There are many benefits in using KSAM, for example, we can help you by providing support through outsourcing in such areas as Event Management, Outsourced Membership Services and Outsourced Support.

Not only does this approach substantially reduce overheads, but the extensive experience and knowledge of the sector possessed by our staff, ensures that a high quality of operations is maintained.
