

Joint Ventures and Shareholders Agreements

It is important to define a future business relationship from the outset. Whether the relationship comprised two parties getting together in a joint venture function, or a small number of shareholders getting together to form a new company and a new business – both involve a similar level of consideration.

We regularly help in the formation of new ventures and have detailed knowledge of the issues and how best to avoid the pitfalls for the unwary.

Lead Partner

- Steve Neal

Key People

- Marc Fecher
- Matthew Meadows

Links

- Corporate Finance
- Business Disposals
- Lead Advisory, Strategic and Exit Route Planning
- Management Buy-Outs and Buy-Ins
- Mergers & Acquisitions
- Raising Finance and Flotations
- Reporting and Transaction Support

Follow us on:

